Cat has an uncommon strength. She needs it and so do her people to survive society's attitudes and actions from police assumptions of guilt and council harassment to petrol bombing. Cat is a Traveller. She also needs strength to resist expectations that she will remain in a traditionally circumscribed gender role and marry when 'marked down' by a man. She is 11 at the start, married at the end, on her own terms; in between we have a powerful story, illuminating the values and experiences of Cat and her community.
