Another excellent book in this series (also available The First Words Picture Book and The Early Words Picture Book) where real full-colour photographs are used throughout. In this one each page starts with an animal who can... paddle, jump, peep over a fence, walk along a wall, and so on. Every double page shows child and animal doing his, her or its version of the same thing until the last double page which shows a child reading. Only this the animals can not do too.

Useful for encouraging language with young children. New readers should gain confidence from the simple text which relates very clearly to the pictures. A nice one to have around at school or at home.
